RESEARCH

Currently working on the development of several Modelica libraries for discrete-event system and hybrid system modeling and simulation. These libraries are:

- DEVSLib: contains an implementation in Modelica of the Parallel DEVS formalism.
- SIMANLib: reproduces in Modelica some functionalities of the SIMAN simulation language.
- ARENALib: based on SIMANLib, emulates the functionalities fo the Arena simulation environment.
- RandomLib: a Modelica library for random numbers and random variates generation.
- CellularPDEVS: an implementation of cellular automata in Modelica, based in Parallel DEVS.

Main research interests:

- Modeling and simulation in general.
- Hybrid and Discrete-event system modeling and simulation.
- Simulation environments and languages.
- Modeling of biological evolution.
